Caleb Smith
Professor of English and American Studies, Yale University

RACE AND PERFORMANCE IN THE PRISON ARCHIVES:
“THE LIFE AND THE ADVENTURES OF A HAUNTED CONVICT”

Monday, October 19, 2015
4:30 pm

H.E.C. Auditorium, Goldwin Smith Hall

In this lecture, Smith will introduce the memoir of Austin Reed, an African American inmate at New York’s Auburn State Prison in the 1850s, and reflect on the histories of race and incarceration in the United States.